Thursday, October 16. 1707.

London, October 16.

The Pope's Monitory (or Declaration) of Excommunication against the Duke of Savoy's Ministers, Officers, and others concern'd in making and publishing certain Edicts, &c. to the Prejudice of the pretended Liberties of the Church and the Authority claim'd by the Apostolical See, continued.

OUR said Predecessor Innocent could not suffer so heinous a Breach of the Ecclesiastical Liberty and Jurisdiction to go unreveng'd, but approving the Decree publish'd in this Matter by the foresaid Congregation of Cardinals on the 8th of June 1700, charg'd the Archbishop of Turin and the other Bishops to put it in Execution: The Tenor of that Decree is as follows, The Archbishop of Turin is order'd to proceed, as of Right he may, as well against the Commissioners Patrimonial and Forner for publishing the Edict of the 12th of May, as against all those who help'd to put it in Execution. Which Order given to the Archbishop is to be communicated to the Bishops, with an Injunction, that in Case the said Edict be publish'd in their Dioceses, they do proceed, as by Right, against the Affixers and Publishers; and if they cannot get a certain Account what Persons they were, that they proceed in general, by declaring that all who promulgated such Edict or assisted in putting it in Execution, have incur'd the Censures; and then that they proceed, as by Right, against all who help'd to put in Execution the foresaid Edict in their Dioceses. And when the said Archbishop, in Execution of the Order prescrib'd him, had commanded a Monitory to be affix'd against the said Commissioners and Patrimonial general, and others express'd and comprehended therein, assigning them the Term of 15 Days to appear and shew Cause why they should not be declar'd to have incur'd the Censures and Penalties denounc'd by the sacred Canons and Apostolical Constitutions, for publishing the foremention'd Edict of the 12th of May of the said Year, that Monitory was not only pull'd down with signal Contempt by the Captain of the Guards of the Court of Lay Judicature, commonly call'd the Baroncello, but, at the Instance of the Patrimonial, the Commissioners, without waiting the Expiration of the Term therein assign'd, pass'd a new Edict on the 3d of August 1700, and publish'd it the 5th of the same Month; in the Preamble of which, declaring the Monitory above-said to be notoriously null and unjust, they had the Confidence, by manifestly straining their Authority, to admonish the said Archbishop, to call it in within the term of 2 Months, and forbear all further Proceeding, on the Penalty of the Seizure of his Temporal Revenues, and other Punishments (erroneously therein asserted to be) customary and according to Law; forbidding likewise all Persons comprehended in the Monitory, to appear before any Ecclesiastical Judge in the said Cause, on Pain of Death: And an Edict of the Senate of Turin, of the same Date, was pass'd, printed, and publicly affix'd, at the Instance of the Attorney-General, declaring that the Ecclesiastical Liberty and Jurisdiction was not at all infring'd by the Edicts of the said Commissioners, but that the Lay Jurisdiction was manifestly violated by the Edict of the said Archbishop and other Bishops, and therefore confirming all that the said Commissioners had acted, as done (so they falsely pretended) in their own natural and lawful Defence; admonishing also the said Archbishop, within the Term of two Months to call in, strike out of the Registers of his Court, and cancel, the foremention'd Monitory and all Acts relating thereto as null and unjust, as also not to offer to molest any Persons comprehended therein, nor proceed to give any further disturbance to the Lay Jurisdiction, under the same Penalty of the Seizure of his Temporal Revenues, and of Death to such Lay-men comprehended in the Monitory as should appear before any Ecclesiastical Tribunal.

It happen'd likewise to the great Grief of our said Predecessor Innocent, that the Ecclesiastical Liberty as well as his own Jurisdiction and that of the Apostolical See, was deeply wounded by the Senate of Nice, in assuming to themselves the Cognizance of a Cause at the Request of Gaetano Albanelli provisionally invested with the Care of the Parish Church of Rocastro situate in the Diocese of Glandeves in the County of Nice, and hindring the levying of Arrears due from that Church to the Apostolical Chamber, by their Decree that the Sequestration of the Revenues of the said Church should be taken off in Favour of the said Albanelli; and by further disturbing the Jurisdiction of the Apostolical Nunciature, to which according to the Powers thereon conferr'd by the foresaid See, and for the sake of due Prevention, the Cognizance of such Causes does intirely belong: With unsufferable Presumption likewise, did the same Senate, (rashly putting their Sickle into another's Harvest, under Pretence of the notorious Nullity of a Sentence of Excommunication given against the foresaid Albanelli by the Tribunal of the said Nunciature, for making Application to the Senate in Contempt of the Jurisdiction of the said Nunciature, after its Tribunal had receiv'd an Appeal put in by the Fiscal of the Episcopal Revenues of Glandeves and by the Patrimonial general,) forbid the said Albanelli to appear before any other Judge than the Senate, on the Penalty of the Seizure of his Temporals; and charge the Syndicks of the said Place, and all other Persons, not to dare to hinder him in the Exercise of his parochial Office, notwithstanding he was, as is aforesaid, by Name excommunicated by the Tribunal of the Nunciature, and therefore by the Church's Precept ought to be shun'd, and to be suspended and remov'd not only from the Administration tion but Participation of things holy. Further, the same Senate had the Assurance to proceed against the Attorney of the Apostolical Chamber, tho' he be notoriously exempted, citing him to make his Appearance before them; they also order'd the Effects both of Joseph Aude Advocate of the said Chamber, and of Cannon Torrini Apostolical Sub-collector, to be seiz'd, in Resentment of the things they had done in Discharge of their Duty.
